THE TORRENS SYSTEM AGAIN

Something More About the Law Which California Has but Does Not Use Being Agitated in New York

An effort was made, I have not learned with what success, at the last session of the New York Legislature, to have the Torrens system, we Californians have long had in an unnecessarily complicated, and expensive and therefore unused form, adopted in that state. The Real Estate Brokers Board of New York held a meeting to countenance the movement; the Bronx Real Estate Board passed the following:

Whereas, There is now pending in the Legislature a bill for the registration of titles known as the "Torrens Bill," and whereas said bill will simplify to an enormous extent the sale of real estate and make it a quick and ready asset instead of an uncertain and slow asset, thereby greatly improving its status as an investment, and making it more favorably considered by the public, and assist in increasing its value, and helping the municipality and all building and dependent industries; therefore, be it Resolved: That the Association of the Real Estate Brokers, after a full consideration, earnestly request and endorse the bill now before the Legislature, known as "An act to provide for the registration of titles."

At a public meeting at the rooms of the Real Estate Board of Managers of Manhattan resolutions were unanimously adopted supporting the bill. Sir Daniel O'Connor, former postmaster general of New South Wales, Australia, spoke, saying: "It is the most honest, most secure, most inexpensive manner of making real estate titles. To you New Yorkers, who do more business in one month than the world's three other largest cities together do in three months, it ought to be indispensable. But you are too much of a hurry here. You are too busy. You go to lunch and return in five minutes. With you everybody's business is nobody's business, and you go along with a title registration system which is not even medieval—it is antediluvian. The world admires your greatness, but where is it if you persist in your old title system?"

Deputy Registrar Thompson said under the Torrens System there would be no accumulations of records, as old records could be destroyed. The new quarters of King's County would soon be inadequate under the old system. The Board of Governors of Real Estate Exchange of Long Island endorsed the bill. President McKnight pointed out that this system would increase the volume of real estate sales, and add to the ease as well as safety with which transfers are effected.

As to the real estate correspondence institute says: "No one will buy land or lend money upon land without being satisfied about the title. It does not matter how often the title has been examined before, it has to be re-examined every time a new transaction takes place. The same old records are examined over and over again, and every time at the expense of examiners' fees."

How Trust Exact Tribute.

"This item of expense is in the nature of a tax on transfers, and any tax is a hindrance to the freest interchange. Beside the expense the delay in searching title is another interference with the freest interchange between buyer and seller. It makes land hard and slow to handle compared to other kinds of property."

"It would seem a most reasonable course that when a labor of this character was once thoroughly done to the satisfaction of all parties there ought to be some method of placing the same on record, so that the work might not be needlessly repeated."

"The records of New York City are bound up in many thousands of volumes, and these must be handled over and over by the searchers. Records of other cities and counties are proportionately cumbersome, and the difficulties increase as the years roll on."

"If the registration of titles were optional the two systems could go along together, the registration of titles gradually taking the place of the registration of deeds as the advantages of the former became more familiar to the public. Equitable mortgages may be effected by a deposit of the certificate of title as quickly as money may be obtained upon the pledge of a chattel. The importance of this feature cannot be overestimated. Under our law real estate is entirely unavailable for sudden emergencies in the money market."

Torrens System Simple.

"In all the Australian colonies the system of land registration has been proved a complete success. It is not new or untried, but a well established and thoroughly tested measure of reform. It presents enormous and certain advantages, with no defects so serious that they ought to prevent its receiving a fair and thorough test parallel to our present cumbersome and expensive system."

"Registration of ownership has existed from time immemorial in Bohemia. In Vienna registers of 1368 are still preserved. In Prague of 1377, and in Munich of 1440. Registration of titles was made universal in Austria in 1811. It was adopted in Saxony in 1843, in Hungary in 1849, and in Prussia in 1872."

Successful in Bay State.

"Massachusetts was the first to call attention to the superior merits of the Australian ballot system and to make it a law. Then the Bay State saw the merit of the Torrens system of land registration and put some of its provisions in the statute books."

"The author of the system was Sir Richard Robert Torrens, a native of Cork, Ireland, who secured its adoption in South Australia in 1857 after a period of vigorous agitation, in which objection and opposition of the strongest character had to be overcome."

"The success of the measure was so great that it was adopted in other colonies of Australia. It is in operation in Canada and the other provinces of British America."

Guards Against Loss.

"Registration from the establishment of the law in South Australia in 1857 to 1895 numbered 1,397,910 titles, and there was only one instance of loss through an incorrect title having been issued during that period of thirty-eight years."

"The Torrens system has been adopted in Massachusetts, Illinois, Minnesota, Oregon, California and Colorado, and the Federal Government has adopted it in Hawaii and the Philippine Islands. Measures have also been taken to have it adopted in a number of the States. As the State is the original and ultimate owner of all the land within her jurisdiction, in accordance with the doctrine of eminent domain, she should exercise the right of granting good realty titles to her citizens."

"This theory is the new force in the New York real estate world. The Board of Brokers will move this week to urge its enactment into law. It will eliminate the baleful influence of the money trust in realty, thus removing the last trace of Wall Street methods. The result, according to prominent real estate students, will attract hundreds of millions of investment money and also induce the general public to take a lively interest in real estate."

"It is surprising that California real estate dealers and owners do not bestir themselves to bring this law in California into general use and thus promote their own interests greatly, by unhampered transfers of property. Our law has been declared constitutional, is to some extent in use, and though capable of improvement is advantageously workable now in many cases."

STREET IMPROVEMENTS. THE GOOD WORK BEGINS.

We are glad to announce the formation of the Millford Street Improvement Association. The list of membership is not large, but it will grow, and it makes up in vigor what it lacks in numbers. It consists at present of Messrs. Dick, Blue, Russ and Keating. These gentlemen have taken off their several coats and proceeded to clear up the parkways on their street until it is a pleasure to look at; the improvement has not reached through to Central avenue from Brand boulevard yet, but it is only a question of a short time until it is cleaned up all the way through.

Through the efforts of Mr. L. C. Brand and Mr. J. A. Cole, Brand boulevard is entirely clear of weeds on both sides of the street, and the improvement in the appearance of that thoroughfare is surprising to anyone who has not before noticed the possibilities in this direction. Other property owners will no doubt follow the good example set by these gentlemen, and we hope to report continued improvement in this section which "cannot be commended too highly for having taken the lead in this good work. We suggest that resident property owners upon their neighbor's property in this clean-up effort. Get beyond your lines of parkway and clean up the non-resident's lot while you are resting; the effect will be good. In blocks where there are only two or three residences, it will pay those who are living there to clean up the whole block. The microphone is in the air, help it along."

W. C. T. U.

The Glendale Union of the W. C. T. U.'s held an institute on Wednesday afternoon. An open air meeting, under a canopy of mulberry trees at the home of Mrs. Byram. Mrs. L. H. Mills, the state superintendent of institute work, and Mrs. Garbutt, the county superintendent of same, were both present and conducted the meeting. Our county president, Mrs. Julia Phelps, was also present, and gave a parliamentary drill.

A member of the board of trustees of Temperance Temple was also present. We had a very good attendance, although there was another meeting at the same hour that took some away that desired to come. The meeting was full of interest, and instructive as to our work, and we secured some new members. A matron's silver medal contest was held in the evening at the M. E. church. The contestants were Mrs. Cox of Eagle Rock, Mrs. Harn and Mrs. Quackenbush of Glendale, Mrs. Ayers and Mrs. Doane (and another whose name we did not learn) of Burbank. Mrs. Doane secured the medal. The "Y's" had charge of the music and did well.

Mr. Marple also favored us with a solo which (it is needless to say) was greatly appreciated by all present. Our next regular meeting will be held next Friday afternoon at the M. E. church. I am requested to say that Eugene Chaffin, prohibition candidate for president, will speak in Los Angeles on Saturday afternoon, also in the evening and Sunday afternoon at Simpson's Auditorium.

RECEPTION AT COUNTRY CLUB

A Successful and Brilliant Affair Last Saturday Afternoon and Evening—Glendale Entertains Hollywood

The most brilliant affair yet planned by members of the Country Club or the Woman's Auxiliary was the series of events last Saturday tendered for the entertainment of members of the Hollywood Country Club and their ladies.

Preceding the tennis finals played on the Country Club and Union High School courts, which were the real attraction of the day, the first event was the reception in the handsomely decorated parlors upon the arrival of the guests from Hollywood. In the absence of the president of the Woman's Auxiliary, Mrs. Edgar W. Pack acted as hostess, assisted by Mrs. L. C. Brand, Mrs. Ezra F. Parker, Mrs. Metcalf, Mrs. J. C. Sherer and other members and officers of the Auxiliary.

Under the skillful hands of Mrs. C. F. Parker and Mrs. L. A. Monroe the rooms presented a most artistic picture, red geraniums and English ivy forming the motif for the tasteful decorations. The fireplace, banked with glowing blossoms, was especially attractive. Mrs. Menzo Williams and Mrs. V. Price Brown had in hand the dining room and the dainty collation served at the various pretty tables was under their hospitable direction.

Punch was served during the entire afternoon on the north veranda, where all gathered to witness the tennis matches.

At the close of the finals, President L. C. Brand entertained the players of both clubs with a handsomely appointed Spanish dinner at Casa Verdugo.

In the evening the parlors presented a glowing picture. The entire club house sparkled with lights, green in the dining room, red in the ball room, fresh flowers added their beauty to the scene and handsome gowns and happy faces were attractions. Stamm's orchestra of music, many of the numbers being the newest and best in up-to-date dance music, which were thoroughly enjoyed until time for the last car. Many of the guests came over from Hollywood in autos, and indeed, one of the most enjoyable events of the day was the auto ride furnished guests, when the special attractions and beautiful scenery around us was shown off to the best advantage.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY AT THE PRIORY.

The surprise party given, ever active in Glendale, has exonerated its continued existence among us and settling upon the "Priory" on Friday of last week, did itself proud to the extent that the day will ever be a pleasant memory to the many old-time friends and neighbors who gathered there to pay their devotions to the winsome lady of the pretty "Priory." Many lovely and dainty gifts proclaimed the birthday anniversary of the surprised and happy hostess, who has long been popular in club, musical and social circles in our valley. Upon the invitation of Mrs. Dr. Hunt, Mrs. Dr. Ray Chase, Mrs. Wm. Hartsough and Mrs. Eugene Pitcher, the friends gathered in a nearby home and descended upon the honoree in a body.

The result was most happy, and jolly games and story-telling contests were thoroughly enjoyed, many of the stories being highly original and very witty. A sumptuous repast, so good and so dainty as to offer further compliment to Mrs. Pack, proved a great enjoyment before the friends gathered to say aurevoir, leaving behind them loving remembrances and many happy returns of the day.

AT "ARD E'VIN."

On next Tuesday afternoon the members of the Woman's Missionary Society and of the Aid Society of First Presbyterian church, with their friends will be welcomed at beautiful "Ard E'vin," up in the North Glendale foothills, by the hostess, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, who will introduce as speaker an old resident of Glendale, Miss Banks, who recently returned from a three years' absence in China where she has been engaged in the mission field. Members are to answer roll-call with current events in Japan. The affair promises to be very pleasant and interesting, and it is hoped the ladies will attend. Transportation from the end of the car line in North Glendale will be arranged. It would be greatly appreciated if those who intend to go would call up Mrs. M. P. Harrison, Sunset 1275, that there may be room for all in the conveyances.

EPWORTH LEAGUE PICNIC.

On Monday leaders and members of the Epworth League had a jolly picnic and watermelon feast at Griffith Park. Early in the morning Mr. Brockman, with a four-horse hay wagon, conveyed the gay crowd to the shade of the old oaks at the foot of Bee Rock. A wagonload of luscious watermelons filled the hungry and thirsty alike, the sweetest and best being saved for the mountain climbers, nearly sixty in number, who returned hot, dusty and tired, to dispose of them. Naturally, a very fine time was reported at the close of the day, when the return was made by the light of a full moon.

Wednesday last was Admission Day. California celebrated its fifty-fifth birthday as a state.

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Neil spent the day at Venice Wednesday.

Mr. Wm. Morrow and family have returned from a week's outing at Catalina.

Mr. Geo. Innes and family have returned from a two weeks' vacation at Venice.

Miss Emily Leighton of Los Angeles was on Saturday, the guest of Mrs. J. C. Sherer.

Mr. George Byram returned Friday morning from a business trip to Hanford, Corcoran and Laguna DeTach.

Misses Dora and Lessie Nell have returned from a few days' stay at Long Beach. They enjoyed the Festival of the Sea while there.

Clarence Lechner has returned from Venice, where he has been spending a week's vacation as the guest of his aunt, Mrs. G. A. Innes.

Mr. F. H. Guernsey reports a rushing business in school books. This is the first time that the High School books and supplies have been on sale in Glendale.

Mrs. Aimee Barager Bailey returned on Wednesday from Rosemond, where she has spent the past month. She was accompanied by Miss Mary Watson, who was her guest while there.

Mr. W. E. Borthick entertained an old friend at his home in Lomita Park last Wednesday, Mr. Scofield of Los Angeles. Both gentlemen were at one time Missourians together.

Miss Sarah McLean of the High School faculty, and her mother, have purchased a home on Fifth street, having sold their property in Visalia, and intend to reside in Glendale.

Mrs. Charles Temple has re-opened her home on Orange street and is delighted to be among Glendaleans again after having spent several weeks in the mountains and a month at the beaches.

Mrs. W. A. Anderson and sons Raymond and Carl left last Saturday evening for San Francisco to visit her sisters, Mrs. T. F. Higgins and S. C. Hoffman, of Oakland, who is seriously ill.

Dr. Up De Graff and family from Omaha were week-end guests of cousins, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison of West Third street. On Monday the guests were taken on an entertaining trip to Griffith Park.

Rev. J. F. Moody and wife, and J. L. Overton took chicken dinner with R. H. Brown and family on East Sixth street on Monday last. A good dinner and a pleasant social evening was enjoyed by all.

Evidence of the fact that Glendale continues to improve and is bound to be up to date, is seen in the store of Shaver Brothers, in the shape of a cash carrier system which Mr. Shaver has just installed.

Mr. Henry P. Smith has purchased from the Byram estate a lot on Fifth and Everett streets, fifty-foot front, on which will be built a handsome residence possibly this fall, but no later than next spring. Consideration, $625.

A Socialist meeting is to be held at Odd Fellows Hall at 8 o'clock this evening, to be addressed by Rev. Thos. H. Leavitt, his subject being "Signs of the Times." Mr. Leavitt has been heard here before and is said to be a good speaker.

At the dry goods store on Brand boulevard, and also at the millinery store of Mrs. Mae Mitchell, corner of Fourth street and Glendale avenue, can be seen specimens of hand painted china, the work of Mrs. Helen Frazer, whose studio is on Lomita avenue near Glendale avenue.

Students going from Glendale to attend the State Normal in Los Angeles this coming school year are Miss Helen Lawton of Corona, who will reside with her aunt, Mrs. Charles Byrket; Miss Lorraine Mitchell of North Glendale, Miss Elsie Gilhausen, Brand Boulevard, and Miss Irene Ward, Second street.

A picnic in Echo park on Labor Day served as a family reunion for the families of George Ward, Henry Ward, the Addison families and many more, thirty-two in all. Almost the entire party are present residents of Glendale and natives of Canada, who came and built homes here, attracted by Glendale climate and natural beauties.

Mr. George McKay, a merchant tailor of Leamington, Ontario, Canada, who has been visiting his aunt and cousin, Mrs. S. J. and C. A. Lane, of Chestnut street, for a week or so past, has left for his home. He was favorably impressed with Southern California, and it is very probable he will return and take up his residence here.

A charming affair of interest to Glendale society was the luncheon given in Los Angeles on West Eighteenth street on Tuesday, when Miss Nellie McPeak, whose engagement to Arthur Campbell is announced, was guest of honor. Her sister, Miss Janice McPeak, acted as hostess. Place cards in the form of wedding bells marked the places, and the center ornamentation was a handsome arrangement of golden-glow. Several from Glendale were present. Miss McPeak is a sister of Mrs. Daniel Campbell of Ard E'vin, North Glendale, and the groom-to-be is a brother of Mr. Campbell and of Dr. Campbell. All are well known in Glendale and Los Angeles society.

CATALINA. Captain Mock Carries Over a Small but Select Company and Brings Them Back Again—The Editor Drops Into Poetry.

Catalina becomes more easily attainable year by year, and it likewise becomes less select. When the writer first visited the island some twenty years ago, he went with a select company and found thereon two very select citizens of fairly good repute who in the intervals between the coming and going of summer visitors, were the only human inhabitants of the island. There were several thousand sheep on the island, a few goats and not much else to speak of. Today it is otherwise and hence different.

Civilization and commercialism are obtrusively evident around Avalon. Walt Whitman never visited Avalon, but he might have done so just as well as not. Mock would have taken him over in the nearest little launch that ever sailed the waters blue and stopped right short when the supply of gasoline became exhausted—but that is another story. Whitman would have climbed to the summit of Black Jack and have come down from there with a complete little poem entitled "Splints of Rock," which would have read about thus:

"I sit on the top of a hard, cold rock with my feet bare, nor stocking nor shoes, nothing but sun burn on them—and I think. I think of the sea that stretches out before me and behind me; beneath that is full of sardines, devil fish, dog fish, crabs, rock cod, albacore, tom-cod and whales. I see men in boats, in bathing suits, bob-tail, spiketail and other coats—I see horses, cattle, automobiles—I see snakes." And then Walt would have gone home again and have sold the lyrical output for $1.25 per volume, with commendations from Tennyson, Swinburn, William J. Bryan and Carrie Nation. But this is rather aside, still it is not without excuse for to see Catalina inspires one to write poetry, and do other irresponsible things, particularly if he happens there upon the occasion of the annual picnic of the "Eagles."

The picnic up at the "Isthmus" on the occasion of our visit. It looked very much as if they did it on purpose, but Mock assured us that it had occurred before at this time of year when we were not present. However, it would have been excusable, for the Ancient Order of Eagles has rarely the opportunity of entertaining two high officials of the city of Glendale and the editor of the most popular and widely read journal published in this flourishing city. And the San Pedro Yacht Club happened there at the same time—a rare conjunction, and fatal to peace and quietness. The Yacht Club is all right, but we submit that it is not good form for the members of that delectable body to swim out to the vessels in which sober citizens were sleeping the sleep of the just at half past midnight, clamber aboard attired in nightgowns, and rouse the inmates from their slumbers by yells that shivered the mainmast and insist in tuneless chorus that they "Won't go home till morning." We have a suspicion that Mock knows why it was that they finally retired singing: "For he's a jolly good fellow."

The Eagles had a barbecue and expected 500 guests, about half of whom failed to arrive—but they gave a great free spread for all comers and not nearly all of the generous supply of food was consumed.

The "Kangaroo" Court was in session and did a volume of business. Officers wearing immense badges of authority and armed with persuasive suspicious characters, hailed them before the magistrate, charged them with some heinous offense and they were promptly fined for the benefit of the Eagle treasury. The voyage over to the island was uneventful except that the "Isthmus" was temporarily misplaced, but was run down after a pretty warm chase.

Nothing occurred worth remarking on the homeward voyage except that several weak-minded albacore got caught on some hooks that were carelessly thrown overboard and had to be hauled aboard for repairs. And then when port was in sight the gasoline gave out—but this is not for publication!

The postmaster and the city clerk, being citizens of veracity at times, were delegated to tell the fish stories; the journalist to deal out the cold facts. It was a beautiful and successful voyage and well deserves to be embalmed in verse:

"I love the sea with its ceaseless roar, But I love it best when safe on shore."

AN ATTRACTIVE RESIDENCE. Among the fine homes recently finished is the residence of Mr. J. Meyer, of eight rooms, bath and cement cellar, and easily worth $4000. It is located on Adams street, north of First and near Oak on the much talked of car line to Verdugo Park. Mr. Meyer, who is a pattern-maker, himself did all the carpenter and masonry work on the house, incorporating many new and original ideas as to built-in cupboards, book-cases, seats, etc. Every piece of wood used in interior finishing was selected for its beauty in grain, etc., and the effect is most artistic.

Most unique of all is the novel fireplace, built of pieces of broken granite, each piece carefully selected and cemented with a black binding, making a most satisfactory effect. The living room is so well lighted as to make it especially attractive, though every room seems especially well lighted. The kitchen is a triumph of modern convenience and Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, both very worthy and hard-working citizens, have good reason for their pride in the handsome home literally built with their own hands.

TENNIS THE PAST WEEK

Hollywood Beat in Doubles, Glendale Wins Singles—St. Vincent Loses to Glendale—Methodists Lose to Presbyterians

On the court of the Country Club last Saturday our home players met six Hollywood men in some well played games with mixed results as the following report shows. It was a pretty good division of honors and everybody seemed well satisfied with the result, as the object of the meeting was not so much to score points at tennis as to enjoy an afternoon's sport and to give the visitors a taste of Glendale's hospitality, and the day was therefore a perfect success. In the doubles, Hollywood carried off the honors, Eastman and Hoover winning from Stanton and Balthis, score 6-0, 9-7, and Shaw and Bannister beating Keating and Blue, although in the last game darkness came on and the scores got mixed. Howe and McLafferty of the home team, however, won from Brown and Lewis, score 6-2, 6-1.

In the singles Glendale came out ahead, winning four out of six games; scores as follows:

Eastman beat Stanton, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. Howe beat Lewis, 6-1, 6-1. Balthis beat Bannister, 6-0, 6-2. Keating beat Hoover, 6-2, 6-4. Finley beat McLafferty, 10-8, 6-4. Blue beat Shaw, 7-5, 6-2.

The match between Finley and McLafferty afforded an exhibition of some particularly fine playing.

Stanton played a strong game against Eastman, making the latter work hard for his victory.

There was a fine representation of Hollywood people present, and the cordial welcome given them assures a larger attendance when their players come again.

There was a great game played on the High School court last Monday between the Presbyterians and the Methodists, and notwithstanding the strong faith and strenuous efforts of the former, the Presbyterians in their sturdy way made their calling and election sure. The players were as follows: Presbyterians—Ray Morrow, Geo. Benson and Elsie Gilhausen. Methodists—Albert Cornwell, Clarence Smith and Pearl Goode.

In Singles Morrow beat Cornwell, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3. Benson beat Smith, 6-3, 6-1. Elsie Gilhausen beat Pearl Goode, 6-1, 4-6, 7-5.

Doubles: Morrow and Benson beat Cornwell and Smith, 6-1, 6-0.

Mixed doubles: Cornwell and Goode beat Morrow and Gilhausen, 6-0, 6-3.

On Oxnams court on Wednesday last the St. Vincent's team from Los Angeles played a select team from Glendale and were beaten of course. We regret that at time we go to press we have been unable to get the returns.

NEW BUSINESS LOCATION. LOGAN BROS. STORE.

Taking advantage of the holidays, Logan Brothers moved into their new store room on the corner of Third and Brand boulevard this week. While their stock is not yet properly placed, enough has been done to indicate that the establishment will be well stocked with an excellent assortment of all kinds of goods which constitute a thoroughly modern general store. One show case is devoted entirely to coffees and teas, another to fancy crackers, while a third and fourth are stocked with fancy soaps, stationery, etc. On the shelves behind glass are kept bottled and canned goods, these on the north side, while on the south side open shelving runs from counter top to ceiling. There is a large tiled gallery in the rear where upon tables will be displayed crockery, glass and chinaware. There is a large glass front refrigerator in the rear for butter, cheese, soda water, etc. Window shelves in front are of unusual depth and are used for display of fruits and vegetables. A rear room is used for storage of bulky goods and for a work room where delivery orders will be prepared. The cellar is capacious and finished in cement. Altogether the establishment is one that Glendale may well be proud of, and indicates the faith of its proprietors in our future.

THE COMING RAILROAD.

The abandonment of Third street for a right of way for the railroad to Eagle Rock came up before the city trustees at Thursday night's meeting, but was laid over again in order to get a few signatures of property owners which have not as yet been attached to all the necessary papers. This is a matter of detail only, and will probably be done by the time the board meets again next Wednesday. All opposition on the part of property owners has practically been withdrawn, under the arrangement secured by Judge Stephens, by which in the event of the railroad not being completed within a fixed period, the street will revert to the city without further action.

The Presbyterians will hold some evangelistic meetings, beginning with Sept. 13th, 7:30 p.m., in a tent pitched at the corner of Fifth and Orange streets. They will be held every evening until further notice, except on Saturday. The Rev. Geo. C. Butterfield of Highland Park will be the preacher, and R. M. Robinson will be the gospel singer. The public is cordially invited.

Executors of the estate of Russell Sage, supposed to be the most cautious of the Wall Street millionaires, have discovered over a million dollars' worth of worthless bonds among his papers.

Nineteen thousand one hundred and twenty-four marriage licenses issued in New York City during the past eight months indicates that the metropolis still stands by some of the gold old fashions.

An ex-United States senator orated to a mob and excited the citizens to lynch a negro down in Mississippi the other day. The state of Mississippi has an excellent opportunity to make an example of one of her too numerous "prominent citizens" who are apt to figure in affairs of this kind. Let us watch her not do it.

The murder of Captain Walter Auble in Los Angeles deprives that city of one of her most valuable peace officers. The paper which stated that he was the oldest officer on the force, was in error, however. Officers Gus Smith at the Arcade depot and G. W. Woodward of the East Side station have both been longer in the service.

England is struggling with the question of the unemployed. Labor exchanges supported by the government found situations for 22,000 applicants during the year ending March 31st. The fact is demonstrated that there is not in England enough work for the male population. Large sums of money are being appropriated to encourage emigration.

DOES NOT WANT A MACHINE.

The Republican candidate for supervisor, Mr. R. W. Pridham, has voluntarily pledged himself in a public address that if elected supervisor he will not permit any of his road overseers to attend conventions as delegates during his incumbency. Grover Cleveland had the right idea as to the duties of a public official when he issued his "pernicious activity" manifesto, declaring that no federal official should take an active part in politics. The most pernicious political machines are built up and kept running by the incumbents of appointive offices who, being the recipients of political favors and holding their places by favor only, have a natural desire to continue the existing officials in power. Several years ago a Republican County convention in Los Angeles passed a resolution debaring deputies in county offices from acting as delegates to conventions of the party. The law should take cognizance of the fact that a public official, however petty the office he holds, cannot act in an unprejudiced manner in matters pertaining to the position that he holds and therefore should not be permitted to act at all as a representative of the people in a convention in which the tenure of his office is involved.

THE SUPERVISORS AND THE ROAD BONDS.

The action of the majority of the Board of Supervisors in selling the entire bond issue of $3,500,000 for Good Roads to James H. Adams & Company at private sale, is little short of amazing. The sale as made nets the county a premium of $44,725, but it is surely reasonable to suppose that if one firm would, without competition, pay this premium, there must be other concerns or individuals who would pay much more if given the opportunity to do so. The newspaper account of the action taken by the board states that "The bond buyers' representative announced that he would not allow his bid to stand if taken under advisement for other firms to bid against." This in itself was evidence showing that the buyers were not willing to compete in the open market for the bonds, doubtless feeling assured that they could not in that case secure them at the price offered, and ought to have been reason enough for rejecting their proposition. It is not necessary to impute improper motives to the three members of the board responsible for this bond sale, but we cannot conceive of an upright public official firmly entrenched in his integrity and jealous of his reputation, being willing to sacrifice it so uselessly.

SCHOOL DAYS.

School days are here again, and the bright-faced youngsters of both sexes (young ladies and gentlemen, if you please) who feel deep down in their consciousness that the world is theirs, have started in on another stretch in the race for knowledge which is the key to wealth, position, fame and power! We live in the golden age of the world, when all things are possible to him who strives, and the gilded baubles we have mentioned are within the limits of the attainable. They are not for the children of rich or the mighty ones of the land alone; the child of the humblest citizen of our community has limitless possibilities for his dower, and may well aspire to the highest material reward that life in a favored land affords. And so it is that, gifted with a healthy body and a wholesome mind, the young American of today, entering the school house again after a vacation well spent, we hope, is justified in dreaming dreams of things to be accomplished at which the slow old world may wonder as it spins through space and sees its mysteries unfolded one by one to the eager searcher after knowledge. But—yes, always the "but"—"with all thy getting, get understanding."

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP IN CLEVELAND.

Municipal ownership has received a severe set-back in Cleveland, Ohio. The Municipal Traction Company has been operating for four months at a monthly loss of $25,000. Whether the experiment shall be continued is a question that will be submitted to a referendum vote, but the result of that vote seems to be a foregone conclusion, as the street railway employees and labor unions who once favored the scheme are now opposed to it. The laborer who wanted to ride on the cars, naturally desired cheaper transportation and favored Mayor Johnson's "three-cent fare" plan. But the laborer employed by the street car company, having his labor to sell, naturally wanted the highest price for it. The employer, either capitalist or municipality, has an equally natural desire to get a fair return on money invested and if his profits are cut down, must reduce his expenses or go out of business. Expenses can most readily be reduced by a reduction in the laborers' wages, which is the principal item of expense with a transportation company. The reformer who will get up a plan whereby we can all sell that which we have at the highest price, and purchase that which we need at the lowest, will well deserve the name of statesman!

UNIFORM TREE PLANTING.

A move should be made in Glendale, looking to the adornment of our streets, and one of the most practical ways of doing this is to take up the question of tree planting and in some manner secure something like uniformity. We have been told on quite high authority, just what kind of trees are best adapted to the purpose of street ornamentation, and also the kind that should not be planted. But it seems to be assumed by some of our citizens that there is so much virtue in variety that every lot owner should be allowed the privilege of planting at will whatever he pleases. The result is a variety surely enough, but not a success from an esthetic point of view. The high authorities to whom we have alluded join in recommending the pepper tree for first place, with results which do not seem entirely satisfactory. Property owners do not seem to realize that all pepper trees are not ornamental. Some of our sidewalks are rendered almost useless by the retention of pepper trees that are fit only for the wood pile and of doubtful value there. These trees are ornamental only when properly planted and well cared for from the beginning, and we hope that the sentiment existing in the minds of some good citizens which impels them to demand the preservation of all existing trees along our sidewalks, will yield to such intelligent modifications as will bring about better results. It should not be difficult for the property owners on a street to get together, and agree as to the best thing to be done for their particular section. There are a number of varieties of trees that grow so rapidly here when properly cared for, that we believe it will be found to be much more satisfactory to uproot a few old-timers and start right, unless the old trees have particular merit to recommend them. One fault that should be particularly avoided is that of planting too closely. It should be remembered that while a vista of trees on either side of a long street is a beautiful picture for the eye to dwell upon, the property owner who finds those that are near by obstructing his view of the distant mountains is not likely to grow enthusiastic.

THE WOMAN QUESTION.

We are in receipt of a courteous communication from Mrs. F. P. Deering, of San Francisco, requesting that if we do not care to publish some articles on the Woman Question, prepared by the Equal Rights League, we should at least write an occasional editorial on the subject so as to arouse interest and encourage discussion. This is certainly a very fair proposition, and we cheerfully comply. We doubt if there is anything new to be said on the subject, for it has been pretty thoroughly threshed out during the last fifty years or more, ever since Susan B. Anthony was a girl, anyhow. Once upon a time we had "views" upon the subject—views which were tinged somewhat with callousness as it seems to us now. We could not discuss the matter without a rise in temperature; the fate of nations seemed to depend upon the immediate and proper disposition of the subject. But that mental condition is now only a memory and we no longer believe that the fate of this or any nation depends upon the proper solution of the question, "Shall women vote?" Notwithstanding the eloquent insistence of some very brilliant women upon the "right" of their sex to vote and do other things "just like a man," we refuse to have our temper raised one single notch nearer to the boiling point. The principal argument in favor of woman suffrage, that it is her "right," ruffles not for an instant the equanimity with which we assert that voting is not a "right," but a "duty"—a duty which has been imposed upon man and which he does not perform as well as he should. But what reason exists for thinking that woman would perform it better than man? It has not yet been revealed to us. When it shall be made clear to the world that woman is both better and wiser than man, then it will logically follow that man should be disfranchised and that the duty of using the ballot devolve upon that vessel which no man therefor would ever dream of calling "weak."

Of one thing, however, we feel reasonably sure: the experiment of Woman Suffrage will be tried, just as will the experiment of Prohibition of the liquor traffic, and having tried the experiment the world will move on to things of greater moment. We do sympathize with that class of laborers, still in the majority, who are opposed to granting the urgent and proper request of the woman suffragists, that the matter be submitted to popular vote upon a constitutional amendment to the state's organic law. There is such a large and intelligent body of women supporting these petitions that our representatives have no right to ignore them and assume to take upon themselves the decision of the matter. Let the question be put to a vote. If the majority of voters decide that the interesting experiment might be tried now, we venture to prophesy that the earth will still continue its course around the sun, sunshine and rain; seed time and harvest, marrying and giving in marriage, death and taxes will still be incidents of the universal plan!

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

Editor News: I take notice that there is some talk about Free Mail Delivery for Glendale. Can you tell your readers whether in case this service is established here, we may expect any better accommodations than is afforded by the present Rural Free Delivery, which touches the suburbs of our town? I write this on Wednesday evening. We have had one mail delivery on Rural Route No. 1 in four days. Sunday was a holiday, Monday was a holiday and Wednesday was just an ordinary day, and the mail men managed to get around with the mail bag. I submit that this is something of an imposition on a long-suffering public, and what I particularly desire to know is whether Uncle Sam's mail service is to be stopped by every dinky little local holiday that comes along? Indignantly yours,

RURAL ROOTER.

THE COLD WATER BOYS.

At it again! The League met last Monday evening in the old City Hall. A good attendance and a lively interest is still manifested. Several additions were made to the by-laws.

The subject of the public meetings was discussed by various members. Several interesting papers were read pertinent to the good cause of prohibition.

We have three ministers and two retired divines as members of the league. Our invitation is to all good citizens to join our ranks, and thus add to the strength of an organization whose object is to protect our homes, our boys and girls, and make of ourselves useful members of society.

Our next meeting will be on Monday evening, September 14, at the old City Hall, at Fourth and Glendale avenue.

The Freshman class, however, has a total of 51 with more to come. Wednesday's holiday broke into the work which will not be systematic until next week in all departments.

PASSING OF THE REV. JOHN PITTINGER.

General pain and surprise will attend the announcement of the death of Rev. John Pittinger, formerly a well-known Methodist minister of Southern California, and an effective member of the local conference up to last fall.

His death occurred at Elgin, Ill., on August 21, where he has resided since his voluntary retirement on account of ill health. The immediate cause of his death was heart failure, though he had been critically ill for a week preceding. During the year, he was active in the work of the First Methodist Church of Elgin, frequently preaching in various churches in that city.

The deceased was born near Steubenville, O., December 4, 1848, and attended Mt. Union College and was admitted to the bar after taking the required course in law. Soon after he began the practice of law he received the conviction that it was his duty to preach the gospel and he entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church. After preaching for two years at Topeka and other points in Kansas, doing pioneer work, he went to New Jersey in 1882, filling various appointments there until 1889, when he was transferred to Southern California.

He was a man of devout character and was highly esteemed by all who came in contact with him. He occupied pastorates at Nipomo, Piru, Elsinore, San Diego, Los Angeles, Epworth, Orange, Glendora and Tropic and at the last meeting of conference asked for a superannuated relation. He held a high place in the esteem of his brother ministers as a man of vigorous mind and terse, logical and forceful expression.

He leaves a widow and two children, Edward Pittinger and Mrs. Francis Kerr Cook, wife of David C. Cook, Jr., of Elgin, connected with the well-known publishing house.

The children of the L. T. L. (a temperance organization for little folks) met Thursday afternoon in the church parlors and aside from the usual program the little ones were made happy by a new departure that proved vastly interesting. This was the sewing which they have taken up for the poor. Mrs. Charles Beal, for so long a time the efficient directress of the local branch, has moved to Los Angeles, and for the present Mrs. M. Z. Remsburg is acting in that capacity. A lawn party and sewing-bee is promised the little workers in the near future. The children during the summer months have met faithfully, and many are the pretty songs and bright little temperance epigrams which they have learned.

THE FIRE AT LA CRESCENTA.

About noon on Thursday a brush fire started near La Crescenta postoffice, which threatened for a time to wipe out the town. As it was, there were three or four unoccupied houses burned and considerable damage done to vineyards and orchards. The fire at last swept up into the mountains, where it burned through the night, a pillar of flame shooting up to the very ridge of the main range. The forest rangers and citizens turned out in force and by back firing and other devices kept the conflagration from becoming more general and destructive. As we go to press the accounts of the fire, its origin and the extent of damage done are conflicting, but it is hoped that the result was not as serious as was made to appear by some of the published accounts.

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION. No. 182.

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE DECLARING ITS INTENTION TO IMPROVE MAPLE STREET.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do resolve as follows:

SECTION 1. That the public interest and convenience require and it is the intention of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, to order the following street work to be done in said City, to-wit:

First. That that portion of Maple street from the east line of Cedar street to the west line of Brand boulevard and from the east line of Brand boulevard to the west line of Glendale avenue, including all intersections of streets (excepting such portions of said street and intersections as are required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon) be graded and oiled in accordance with the plans and profiles on file in the office of the City Engineer, and specifications for the construction of graded and oiled streets on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 10.

Second. That a cement curb be constructed along the lines of the roadway of said Orange Grove avenue from the easterly line of Glendale street (excepting along such portions of the line of said roadway upon which a cement curb has already been constructed to the official line and grade), in accordance with specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 2.

Third. That a cement sidewalk four (4) feet in width be constructed along each side of said Orange Grove avenue from the easterly line of Glendale street to the westerly line of Adams street (excepting such portions of said Orange Grove avenue along which a cement sidewalk four (4) feet in width has already been constructed to the official line and grade), said sidewalk to be constructed according to specifications on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 1, excepting, however, that the sidewalk shall be four (4) feet in width instead of five (5) feet as specified in said specifications.

SECTION 2. That the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale hereby finds upon estimates directed to be furnished by the City Engineer that the total cost of said improvement will be greater than fifty cents per foot along each line of said street, including the cost of intersections, and it is hereby determined, in pursuance of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, approved February 27, 1893, as amended by an Act of the Legislature amending said last named Act, which amending Act became a law March 2, 1899, that bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said improvement. Said bonds shall be serial, extending over a period of ten years from their date, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable, by coupon, on the second day of January every year after their date, until the whole are paid, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum on all sums of unpaid principal and interest, by coupon, on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid.

SECTION 3. THE GLENDALE NEWS, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in the said City of Glendale, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution of Intention, and notice of the passage thereof, shall be published in the manner and by the persons required by law.

SECTION 4. The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this Resolution and shall cause the same to be published by two insertions in the manner required by law in said newspaper, and shall post the same conspicuously for two days on or near the chamber door of the Board of Trustees. Adopted and approved this 10th day of September, 1908.

WILMOT PARCHER,
